Mission Statement

- A good education app for college students doesn't exist.
- There aren't enough educational apps for college students.
- This affects teachers and college students.
- Students not having this app might struggle in classes that don't match their learning pace.
- If not for everyone learning in different ways, the problem wouldn't be students struggling in classes
- If it were more educational apps then teachers would be able to teach at their own pace and the students that learn slower would be able to use the app.
